Corporate & Social

Profile – At a Glance

Pakistan Press Syndicate is compiling profiles of national figures especially those who have made a mark in socio-economic spheres.

Latest in the series is comment on the achievements of Dr Murtaza Mughal.

With versatile traits from managerial acumen to social work, Dr Murtaza Mughal is a compelling orator; well known figure in literary, professional, media and social circles of the country.

His dynamism for social welfare initiatives like CSR, SDG's and a great love for Quranic philosophy and thought, earned him laurels in corporate and social circles alike. National media depicted him as a "role model of corporate culture and civil society".

As a student of the Quran, he has great insight on concept and practice of Islamic tenets in today's fast changing world and its relevance to emerging socio-economic and political realities.

He is zealous in spreading the message of the Quran in true spirit and context. In seminars, workshops, talks, debates; at various universities across Pakistan & other fora like NIM, FPCCI, NPC, YAP, Sultana Foundation, Positive Pakistan, Women Chamber, Qalam Karwan, Bedari-e-Fikr Forum etc, wherever, he finds an opportunity, one can see him freely quoting and relating divine guidelines to everyday life situations. Free from bigotry and rigidity, people cherish him for his subtle narrations of Quranic philosophy and its application on individual and collective levels.

Indeed few people are endowed with such a capability of relating the Quran in a simple and concise manner.

On professional side, Dr. Mughal has an experience of more than three decades as a Corporate Insurer and is currently working as Senior Executive Director / Group Country Head in United International Group (UIG) since 2005. He was Head of Northern Region at American International Group (AIG) for 10 years before his current appointment.
